Weekly Words from The Rock

Last week we looked at pages 149-151 of the work by Lawrence Richards entitled International Children's Bible Field Guide: Answering Kids' Questions from Genesis to Revelation (Copyright 1989, Thomas Nelson Publishers). Specifically over the course of three pages, the author looks at the 12 disciples. From a first person account, we looked at the following disciples:

1. Simon Peter
2. James the Greater
3. John
4. Philip
5. Nathanael (Bartholomew)
6. Matthew (Levi)
7. James the Lesser
8. Thaddaeus (Judas)
9. Simon the Zealot
10. Judas Iscariot

From the list, I posed two questions. First, which two disciples are not found listed? And second, who took the place of Judas Iscariot as the twelfth disciple?

We begin with the latter question. Acts 2:15-26 reads, "During those days Peter stood up in the midst of the brothers (there was a group of about one hundred and twenty persons in one place). He said, "My brothers, the scripture had to be fulfilled which the Holy Spirit spoke beforehand through the mouth of David, concerning Judas, who was the guide for those who arrested Jesus. He was numbered among us and was allotted a share in this ministry. He bought a parcel of land with the wages of his iniquity and falling headlong, he burst open the middle and all his insides spilled out." This became known to everyone who lived in Jerusalem, so that the parcel of land was called in their language 'Akeldama,' that is, Field of Blood. For it is written in the Book of Psalms: 'Let his encampment become desolate, and may no one dwell in it.' And: 'May another take his office.' Therefore, it is necessary that one of the men who accompanied us the whole time the Lord Jesus came and went among us, beginning from the baptism of John until the day on which he was taken up from us, became with us a witness to his resurrection." So they proposed two, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was also known as Justus, and Matthias. Then they prayed, "You, Lord, who know the hearts of all, show which one of these two you have chosen to take the place in this apostolic ministry from which Judas turned away to go to his own place."

Then they gave lots to them, and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was counted with the eleven apostles."

Thus, in answer to the question, who took the place of Judas Iscariot, the answer is Matthias.

For further learning, I typed in the question, "What does it mean to cast lots in the Bible?" The following is taken from a site entitled Reference.com. "The practice of casting lots was completed by throwing sticks or stones with markings or symbols into a closed-off space to determine the will of God. It was used by Jews throughout the Old Testament, and even Jesus Christ's disciples in the New Testament until Pentecost. The way that the "lots" landed would be interpreted by someone present, usually a person considered close to God or learned in scripture. The casting of lots was typically used when a big decision had to be made but there was insufficient information or guidance in the scriptures. Throughout the Bible, neither God nor Jesus not any agent of them denounced casting lots, but after Pentecost, which is said to have brought the presence of the Holy Spirit to God's people to help guide them, the casting of lots was no longer necessary."

Now we look closely at the former question. There were two disciples not listed. They are Andrew and Thomas. From the book mentioned, here is a first person account of these two disciples.

Andrew – I am Peter's brother. Like Peter, I was a fisherman. I heard John the Baptist say Jesus is the Lamb of God, our Savior. So I quickly ran after Jesus and asked if I could stay with him. After that first day I knew that Jesus was the Christ. And I hurried and told my brother Peter. You can read about me in Matthew 4:18; Mark 1:16-18,29; Mark 13:3; John 1:40,44; 6:8; 12:22; Acts 1:13.

Thomas – I have been called Doubting Thomas all these years. I wasn't there, you see, when the others saw Jesus after he was raised from the dead. I didn't believe my friends. I had to see for myself. Later, the moment I saw Jesus, I fell on my knees and worshipped him. Read about me in John 11:16; John 14:5; John 20:23-28; Acts 1:13.

Question for the Week

In our quote from Acts above, we learn that Judas is depicted of buying a piece of property with the betrayal money and being killed on it in a fall. In the gospel of Matthew, there is a popular tradition about the death of Judas that differs from the story of Acts. My question is, how is Judas Iscariot depicted of dying in Matthew's gospel?

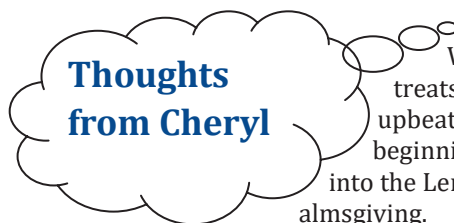

The answer will be given next week.

God's blessings to you!

Father Schuster

On behalf of the parish community, I would like to thank Rochelle Arvizo and Lisa Kowalewski for responding to our need for Mardi Gras co-chairs. In addition to Rochelle and Lisa, there were numerous parishioners who expressed how much they enjoyed Mardi Gras and did not want to see it disappear. I was especially touched by Angela's call. She is currently a Confirmation Candidate, with her own food booth responsibilities, but was willing to go the extra mile and co-chair the event with her mother, just to be sure that the tradition continued.

This outpouring of concern tells us that Mardi Gras has value and meaning for our parish community. There are still many ways to help. We hope you will check out our volunteer display board. One of the most popular activities at Mardi Gras is the Cake Walk. We invite all of you who like to bake (or buy), to make a cake or cupcakes for the walk. 90 to 100 cakes are ideal. It is remarkable that we go through that many, but true. Saturday, February 25 at 10 a.m. we will begin decorating Fr. Zenk Hall and the classrooms for Mardi Gras. The more hands we have helping, the more festive and creative the atmosphere becomes. We welcome gift cards that can be used in our balloon drop. At the end of Mardi Gras, a golden ticket will give you a chance to grab a dropping balloon and see if you are a winner. We are also searching for artists who would like to share their talent as a face painter. These are just a few of the ways to get involved. Most important of all is your presence at Mardi Gras. This is a great opportunity to bring all of your family, friends, and neighbors together.

Mardi Gras is a unique celebration. While we are eating sweets and treats, playing games and humming upbeat tunes, our hearts and minds are beginning the preparation process to enter into the Lenten season of prayer, fasting, and almsgiving.

Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, March 1. One Lenten opportunity that we would like you to consider is participation in a Lenten Small Group. We are encouraging our entire parish to form small groups of three to five people to discuss the book, Confessions of a Mega Church Pastor. This is the book that Resurrection gave out at Christmas. If you need a copy of the book, just let us know and we will make sure that you have one. In addition to Home Groups, we will have groups meeting at Church if that works better for you. We are limited by space, so only specific days and times will be available. Small groups truly help us to grow in faith and to form bonds of friendship in ways that no other activity can provide. Take a chance this Lent to reach out, invest time and effort in sharing your faith with others and learning from each other.

In 2001, I was blessed to be part of a small group of women who met monthly in our homes. We rotated the hosting responsibilities and choice of book to study. It has been one of the most profound growth experiences in faith that I have had.

Enjoy God's embrace.

Thank you to all who donated jeans to our Sole Hope service project. We were overwhelmed by your generosity. Our young people were able to cut over 30 pairs of shoes, but there is always more than can be done. If you are interested in continuing to help by cutting more patterns for Sole Hope, please contact Katie Stinson at 507-288-8238 and we can provide you with the materials and instructions. At this time monetary donations are also needed to ship the patterns, pay the workers in Uganda who finish the shoes and provide outreach and education to the people that Sole Hope serves. If you would like to donate, please visit solehope.org/donate.

Resurrection's Women of Our Lady of Good Help (Widow's Support Group) invite all Resurrection's widows to join them on Tuesday, February 14th at 5:30 pm in the Fr. The goal is to provide a monthly structure for reading high quality literature and grow in friendship in the process. The year includes great books, spiritual classics (during Advent and Lent), worthy reads, poetry and selected essays from the Catholic and Western Tradition. Meetings are monthly for 1 1/2 hours, contact Mary Robak at 507-358-5629 or mary.robak@gmail.com.

Liturgy Notes from Joann

The Mystery of Sacred Objects – Crucifix, Candles and Books

Here are some of the primary objects we use at Mass:

The Crucifix

The cross of Jesus Christ is the most important symbol found in any Christian worship space because it is central to our understanding of the mystery of our faith. The crucifix at Resurrection is our processional cross. Every Mass must have a crucifix on or near the altar.

Candles

When we gather at Mass candles should remind us of the light of Christ that is given to us in Baptism. Jesus referred to himself as the “Light of the World”. When we celebrate the Mass, candles (especially the Paschal Candle) dispel the darkness that surrounds us and bathes us in the light of Christ. For this and for other reasons, there is a guiding principle regarding objects used in worship – the principle of authenticity. If we have a choice between natural or genuine material and synthetic material made to look like natural, we always opt for the natural material. Real, wax candles are always preferred over candle-like cylinders that hold oil or plastic candles with electric flames.

Books

When we gather for Mass, we use books to assist us in worship. Our faith tradition loves books! We carry them in procession, adorn them with symbols and pictures, kiss them, reverence them, incense them and enshrine them. We do this because we recognize that GOD can be present to us and act in our lives through the words, readings and the prayers contained in these books. Here are some of the special books we use in our worship:

The Lectionary: We read from this book every time we gather for Mass. It contains the readings for the day – the stories of our faith. It tells our story – the story of GOD’S action and presence among us.

The Roman Missal: This is the book of prayers that the priest uses every time we gather for Mass. It contains the formulas for greeting and sending, the prayers for the day, the Eucharistic prayers, petitions and blessings.

The Book of the Names of the Dead: In this book, we write the names of all the faithful departed. We enshrine this book near the Baptismal font during the month of November.

The Parish Prayer Book: This book is enshrined in the Gathering Space. In it, we write our prayers and petitions – which are presented to GOD during the Prayer of the Faithful at every Sunday Mass.

Psalm Refrain for February 19 – 7th Sunday in Ordinary Time (Psalm 103:8)

The Lord is kind and merciful.
