Weekly Words from The Rock

Quiz Question

Last week, I provided ten statements on the 12 apostles. I asked you to determine whether the statement was true or false.

Here are the answers.

Statement 11: Matthew wrote one of the four gospels. Answer: True

Statement 12: James and John were nicknamed "Sons of Thunder." Answer: True

Statement 13: Jesus took Simon, Jude and Peter with him when he was transfigured.

Answer: False. (Jesus took Peter, James and John.)

Statement 14: Bartholomew wrote one of the four gospels.

Answer: False

Statement 15: Peter denied Jesus one time. Answer: False (Peter denied Jesus three times.)

Statement 16: James and John were carpenters. Answer: False (Along with Peter and Andrew, they were fisherman.)

Statement 17: Thomas wrote one of the four gospels. Answer: False

Statement 18: Thomas was the only Apostle at the foot of the cross. Answer: False (The "beloved disciple" was at the foot of the cross. It is believed that the "beloved disciple" was John.)

Statement 19: Andrew was crucified upside down.

Answer: False (While Peter was crucified upside down, Andrew was crucified on an x-shaped cross.)

Statement 20: Peter had the coolest/best name of all the Apostles. Answer: True (Need I say more.)

Next, we are going to look at questions from the New and Old Testament.

Old Testament:

1. Name the first book in the Old Testament.
2. Name the person who is called the Father of the Jewish people.
3. Name the young man who was sold into slavery by his brothers.
4. What do we call a person who "speaks for God"?

New Testament:

1. Name the four gospel writers.
2. Who wrote most of the epistles (letters)?
3. Name two of the Christian groups to whom Paul wrote letters.
4. Name two books in the New Testament that begin with the letter R.
5. In what two gospels can we find the Christmas story?

I'll give you a week to see if you can come up with the correct answers. Good luck!

Biblical Terminology

We continue our work of defining words and names from the pages of the Bible. My source for this is Harper's Bible Dictionary, Harper & Row Publishers, Copyright 1985.

Carpenter - an artisan skilled in working with wood. The Israelites were apparently lacking great skills in this area in the time of David and Solomon (ca. 1050-975 B.C.), since carpenters had to be imported from Tyre to aid the construction of David's palace (2 Samuel 5:11) and Solomon's Temple (1 Kings 5:6).

Among the returnees from the Exile in the sixth century B.C., however, there were native craftsmen able to aid in the restoration of Jerusalem and the Temple (Jeremiah 24:1; 29:2).

A description of a carpenter's tools and procedures is given in Isaiah's account of the manufacture of an idol (Isaiah 44:13-17): a "line" for measuring, a pencil for marking, planes for shaping, and a compass for designing. The carpenter there is described as planting, tending and cutting down the trees with which he works. In the Gospels, Jesus is reported to be a carpenter or the son of one indicating his common birth, since learned men did not pursue that profession...

While the Greek word usually rendered "carpenter" can also mean "craftsman" or "builder," there is no clue in the Gospels as to how the term is to be understood other than as one who worked with wood for a living.

Liturgy Notes from

Joann, Director of Liturgy & RCIA, dirliturgyrcia@rescathroch.org.

Alpha and Omega

Alpha and omega are the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet. They are both vowels. Alpha is similar to the letter A in our alphabet and is shaped the same way. Omega looks like a horseshoe – Ω. It has a long O sound, so the aural equivalent appears earlier in our alphabet. In the Greek alphabet, alpha leads to omega as A leads to Z.

The letters alpha and omega appear several times in the Book of Revelation:

“I am the Alpha and the Omega,” says the Lord God, “the one who is and who was and who is to come, the almighty.” 1:8

He said to me, “They are accomplished. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. To the thirsty I will give a gift from the spring of life-giving water. 21:6

“I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.” 22:13

Together, alpha and omega form a title of Jesus Christ who is “the first and the last; the beginning and the end; the one who is, who was and is to come; the almighty; the one who is the same yesterday, today and forever.”

At the Easter Vigil every year, the priest carves or traces the letters Alpha and Omega on the Easter Candle while he proclaims Christ as the beginning and the end. The symbols remain on the candle throughout the year. They may also appear in other Christian art and are often seen on crosses and crucifixes.

As we celebrate the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe today, the church liturgical year draws to a close and another begins next week on the First Sunday of Advent. It is appropriate on this day of endings and new beginnings to remember Christ, who stands above all time as the beginning and the end. He existed before time began. He will rule as judge at the end of days. And he appeared in human history, an event we celebrate every Christmas Day. Whether we are celebrating the turning of a church year or of the calendar year, we acclaim Christ as our Alpha and Omega, the first and the last, the one to whom all time belongs, and in whom we live, move and have our being. Let us follow Christ our king by serving the poor, welcoming the immigrant, visiting the prisoner, healing the sick, burying the dead and loving one another.

Psalm Refrain for December 3 – First Sunday of Advent (Psalm 80:4)

Lord, make us turn to you; let us see your face and we shall be saved.

Musical Musings from Joy

Music and Choral Director, choirdirector@rescathroch.org

What do you think about liturgical intelligibility? If we think about it, it's actually an important part of how we understand everything in our lives!

If you don't have a Missal that you bring with you to Church, I encourage you to purchase one, (available in the Parish Office,) and try following along during Mass. You can even follow along with the readings in the green hymnal! You may be surprised how much more you pick up on when you read along.

Here's this week's thought: *Besides the explicit call for "fully conscious, and active participation," there are other parts of Sacrosanctum Concilium that directly assist this appeal. For instance, "the other new feature of [Sacrosanctum Concilium] is the use of the vernacular. Among the questions of liturgical reform, that of language has always been considered the most important. Indeed, it plays an absolute role in assuring the active participation of the faithful in the liturgy."*¹ Though some vernacular concessions began in the 1950s, Sacrosanctum Concilium made these accommodations the norm. Also, the allowance for native languages to be utilized meant the Gospel could be spread more easily.

Furthermore, *"with the primary aim to ensure 'full, conscious and active participation' the Fathers not only recognised the diversity of particular Churches and their way of life, but opened the way for local practices to be included in liturgical celebrations."*² Indeed, one would feel more connected to a liturgy in which the language and traditions being used were understood. However, this allowance also is a serious criticism of Sacrosanctum Concilium. Unfortunately, for some, the use of local traditions within the liturgy can come across as sacrilegious. One illustration is liturgical dance, especially popular amongst the African Church. Indigenous music is another prime example.

Has anyone ever experienced a rite or "difference" in the Mass from what you're used to? What was it? Did it hinder or help your prayer? How about music? Have you ever encountered multicultural music at Mass? Was it easy or difficult to pick up on? These are all important questions that I am eager to hear your thoughts on!

Hymnal Scavenger Hunt: How'd you do with last week's Hymnal Scavenger Hunt? It was This Alone, which can be found in your green hymnal at #652. Here's this week's clue:

*This song is perfect on this Thanksgiving Day weekend, especially when God has given us so many countless gifts!
Hint: This song may be found in both hymnals!

Nursery, Sunday School Families, and Parishioners: You are invited!

Please join me on December 1st from 6pm to 7:30pm to attend a Children's Ministry and Fusion sponsored Jesse Tree activity for families. What is a Jesse Tree? Jesse was the father of King David. The Jesse tree is named from Isaiah 11:1 "A shoot shall come out of the stock of Jesse, and a branch shall grow out of his roots." The ornaments of the Jesse tree tell the story of God in the Old and

New Testament, connecting the Advent season with the faithfulness of God across four thousand years of history. The Jesse tree helps us to connect the custom of decorating Christmas trees to the events leading to Jesus' birth. We adorn a Jesse tree with ornaments that represent people, prophecies, and the events leading up to the birth of Jesus. We will begin with a pizza dinner in Father Zenk Hall at 6pm followed by crafts and discussion

Please RSVP via the church website found at www.rescathroch.org; Click on Events and scroll down to The Jesse Tree – A Family Activity.

Grades 1-5: Children in grades 1, 3, 4, and 5 will have regular classes on Monday, November 27th at 4:30 and 6:00pm. The 2nd graders and others preparing to receive the sacrament of reconciliation will be participating in the First Reconciliation Parent/Child Learning Centers on Monday. A special thank you to Tom & Carol Mahon, Margaret Frank, Carolyn & Nathan Ryno for helping with our Hail Mary, Full of Grace Learning Centers on November 13th—They helped set-up, clean-up and everything in between!

First Reconciliation: For families with children who are preparing to receive their first reconciliation, we will have First Reconciliation Parent/Child Learning Centers on Monday, November 27th.

The centers will be set up in Fr. Zenk Hall and you may participate anytime 4:00-7:00pm. The centers will take about an hour to complete. I'm looking forward to spending time with all the families as they grow in their faith and learn more about God's mercy and forgiveness.

Virtues in Practice: Stewardship is our virtue this month and we have been looking for ways to return to God the best that we have of our time, talent, and treasure. St. Elizabeth of Hungary and Blessed John of Fiesole, "Fra Angelico," were good stewards. They are two examples of someone who is given the responsibility to care for and protect things that belong to someone else. Each of our lives is a gift from God. We are all "stewards" who will give our lives back to God when we go to heaven. So while we are on earth, we must take care of and use wisely all the time, talents, and material things that God has blessed us, using all for the benefit of others and the glory of God. St. Elizabeth and St. John, pray for us. Amen.

Our Lady, Undoer of Knots: During our "Hail Mary, Full of Grace" Learning Centers, the children and parents learned about one of Pope Francis' prayers to Our Lady, Undoer of Knots. Our Mother, Mary helps us with the troubles that are like a tight knot in our lives. We invite you to see our display in the Fr. Zenk hallway. Please feel free to take a piece of rope, ask Mary to intercede, say a prayer, and then tie your knot with the others.
