Weekly Words from The Rock

The Eucharist as Thanksgiving

You have no idea how many people have told me, "I don't get anything out of Mass." I am quick to reply, "you have it backwards. You don't come to Mass to get something. You come to Mass to give something, and that something is your thanks to our good and gracious God for the blessings that you have received."

Sometimes the person will add, "And Mass is boring, too." So I will needle the grumbler, "Have you received any blessings this week?" Usually there is a blank stare and a long pause. After a brief uneasy silence, I pipe up, "What about each new day? You have your health, food on the table, clothes on your back, a roof over your head, money in your pocket, friends at your side and some happy experiences, too."

The brief exchange is headed to two final questions. "Where is all of this from?" For a person of faith, the correct answer is, "God." "And, what did you do to deserve it?" The correct answer is, "Nothing." Everything that we receive over the course of a week is an undeserved gift from our benevolent and generous God, and if all is a gift, the least a person can do is set aside an hour a week to go to Mass to give God praise and thanks.

When Jesus instituted the Eucharist, he established it as an act of thanksgiving. The Words of Institution are: "He took the bread, and giving thanks, broke it," and, "He took the chalice, and once more giving thanks, he gave it to his disciples" (see Luke 22:19, 17 and 1 Corinthians 11:24). The Catechism of the Catholic Church describes this as "consecratory thanksgiving" (No. 1346). The two substances, bread and wine, are signs of gratitude, as first seen when the priest Melchizedek offered bread and wine to thank God the Creator for the fruits of the earth (Genesis 14:18-20).

The Greek word "eucharisteo" means "to give thanks." The Catechism states that the Eucharist "is an act of thanksgiving to God" (No. 1329). The entire Mass is a prayer of thanksgiving, which is stated explicitly in some prayers implied throughout. The priest says, "Let us give thanks to the Lord our God," and the congregation replies, "It is right and just." The Preface continues, "It is truly right and just, our duty and our salvation, always and everywhere to give you thanks, Lord, holy Father." The Preface concludes with the "Holy, Holy," a hymn of praise that gives thanks to God.

Similarly, the words of the doxology are, "Through him and with him, and in him, O God almighty Father, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, all glory and honor is yours, for ever and ever" – a joyful song of praise to offer thanks to God.

After we receive holy Communion and Christ is really present to us in an intensified way, it is a perfect time to have a chat with the Lord, to mention a few of the blessings we have received over the past week, and to tell Jesus just how grateful we are. All we have is from God, and without God we would have nothing. It is an empty argument to say, "I don't get anything out of Mass." We go because we owe God our praise and thanks.

Pop Quiz

On February 20, 1997, The Catholic Spirit came up with a religious competency test. This test encompasses all articles of the Catholic faith. Here is the question I posed for you last week and I now provide the answer.

Question: He baptized with water and was sent to prepare God's people for the coming of the Messiah:

- A. Daniel
- B. David
- C. John the Baptist
- D. Jeremiah

Answer: C. John the Baptist

Here is the question for the coming week.

Question: At the Last Supper, Christ instituted the sacraments of:

- A. Holy Eucharist and Holy Orders
- B. Baptism and Reconciliation
- C. Anointing of the Sick and Marriage
- D. Confirmation and Penance

Good luck with the question. I'll provide the answer next week along with the next series of questions.

God's blessings! Father Schuster, Pastor

Food for Friends News

May is upon us. We have four weeks left for food distribution at Franklin. Thank you to all of you who coordinated getting the goods from Channel-

One, those who helped pack up the bags for our friends, and those who helped with distribution during the school year. We did a number of special projects this year too, and the children were so appreciative.

For the month of May, we would like to collect cereal. Also, my supply of personal hygiene products are totally depleted. We would like to fill about 40 more bags by the 3rd week of May to get distributed. We need wash clothes or hand towels, shampoo, lotion, hair combs/ or brush, hand soap or body wash. Feel free to put your own bag together. The gallon size zip lock bags work great. Just drop off items at the church in the black tub. Much appreciated.

Thank you to all who donated to Food for Friends during Almsgiving. I will send out the amount received once all the monies have been deposited.

Musical Musings from Joy

Music & Choral Director
choirdirector@rescathroch.org

Do you love me?
Peter denies Jesus three times before his Crucifixion. As an antithesis to that, Peter affirms Jesus three times during the Resurrection. How wonderful! What does Jesus tell him each time? "Feed my LAMBS," "TEND my sheep," and "Feed my SHEEP." Of course, we're the lambs and sheep in this story. I think it's safe to say that Peter learned his lesson! This weekend's Responsorial Psalm refrain says it best: "I will praise you, Lord, for you have rescued me." We also heard this same Psalm at the Great Easter Vigil. This was in response to the Prophet, Isaiah: "For a brief moment I abandoned you, but with great tenderness I will take you back. In an outburst of wrath, for a moment I hid my face from you; but with enduring love I take pity on you, says the LORD, your redeemer." How (literally) prophetic was this? Jesus first abandons Peter and his people, and, like a good Shepherd, takes him back with love. Except, in the present-day of Jesus and Peter, he is also giving Peter the initial instructions for the future. Our lectionary is really a marvel – how masterfully these passages have all been coupled together!

Here's a link to this week's Psalm setting we used, "Psalm 30: I Will Praise You, Lord," by Tony Alonso:

News from Sheila, Birth-KG, Children's Ministry, RCIA, dresscm@rescathroch.org

Reminder there is NO Sunday School or Nursery today as it is First Communion. There are two Sunday School/Nursery sessions left of the year: May 12th and May 19th. May 19th our Sunday School students will celebrate their final class with a showcase of their favorite songs after the 8:30 and 10:00 class times. Families be sure to attend this event. It is also pancake breakfast this day. Although the Sunday School and Nursey experience will be ending for the year, make sure to continue to read the bulletin for news and upcoming events. During the summer months Fusion Ministry will host Friday evening S'mores Nights at the parish fire pit! Stay tuned for dates and times. St. Andre Bessette help us to be diligent in all we do, guide us to do our best and to work hard until our work is completed. St. Andre Bessette pray for us! Amen

News from Stacey, Grades 1-5, Family Ministry, dre1to5fm@rescathroch.org.

Totus Tuus is coming to Resurrection week of July 8-12, 9:00am-2:30pm Monday-Friday. We invite all children entering 1st-6th grades this summer, join us for a week of summer fun, friends, and faith. The cost is only $15 per child or $30 for a family. Registration forms are in the Gathering Space, by the drinking fountain, and on our website.

First Communion: Congratulations to all the children and their families! You are great witnesses to the rest of us today. We join you in your great excitement in receiving Jesus for the first time.

God bless each one of you on your special day!

Virtues in Practice: During May, practice the virtue of diligence. It means doing your best and working hard until you're finished. There are three parts of this definition. We do our best when we remember that we are offering all our work to God. "Working hard" reminds us not to be afraid of a challenge, because we have strength that comes from Him. The third part is "until you're finished." This means having the self-control to conquer the goal, even if we get tired of it. Then, we can be proud of our work, and rejoice in a job well done for God's glory. St. Francis de Sales and St. Andre Bessette are our May saints that practiced diligence. St. Francis and St. Andre, pray for us! Amen.

News from Ryan, Grades 6-12, Youth Ministry, youth@rescathroch.org
