Weekly Words from The Rock

My Catholic Life has a series of questions and answers on the Catholic Faith. It can be found at the site "Catholic Questions and Answers: Questions and Answers from My Catholic Life!" I am going to share with you some of their questions and answers in the weeks ahead.

Q. What would be a reason for me to get into purgatory?

A. Let's start with the painful truth. The only way to enter into the full glory and splendor of the Beatific Vision, thus seeing God face to face and being in perfect communion with Him, is to be forgiven of every sin AND to be purified of every attachment to sin. This is a glorious invitation and a demanding endeavor!

Purgation of all sin and all attachment to sin is not an option. Only when we are perfect in every way will we be ready to enter into what saints have called "Divine Union" or "Mystical Marriage." Think of it this way: If you are attached to sin in your life, even the smallest imperfection, that attachment cannot enter into the presence of God. God is all holy and pure love. God wants you to be in union with Him, but He will not accept your sinful attachments.

The first step is forgiveness. But that's the easy part. God, in His mercy, will forgive us of our sins if we are sorry and ask for forgiveness. But the second step is to then become completely detached from all remnants of sin. For example, if you have a habit of being critical of others in your speech and you confess this, then you can be assured you are forgiven of all past sins of being critical. But forgiveness does not mean you have been purified of the "attachment" you have to that sin. In this case, an attachment to the sin of being critical is the disordered tendency to be critical. An attachment is different from a temptation. An attachment is more of a habit you voluntarily formed.

Purgation is the process of breaking every sinful habit

you have and detaching from all habitual sins and even imperfections so that you can be attached to God and His holy will alone. But how on Earth do you do this? In the end, you don't do it by yourself. Instead, you allow God to come into your soul and purify it of all sinful habits and attachments. And that will hurt! But it will be a purifying hurt and will be freeing.

Purgatory refers to the purification process of all attachments we still have when we die. Ideally, we would go through the process of purification here on Earth, before death, so as to enjoy Divine Union here and now and not only in Heaven. But when we do not complete the process here on Earth, Purgatory will complete this process after death. If that sounds gloomy, it's not. It's beautiful when understood and embraced.

Appeal for New Greeters and Ushers

The health and safety of our parishioners, visitors, volunteers, staff, and priests have been of the utmost importance to us as a parish community. Father Schuster is grateful for the patience and understanding of the Resurrection parish community during the time spent apart. With recent guidance from Bishop John Quinn about public worship, Father Schuster has announced his plan to reopen Resurrection for public Mass. We are grateful to Bishop John Quinn and Governor Tim Walz for the opportunity to return to worship.

When public Mass is possible, we will adopt a simplified liturgical ministry roster from what we have used. At this time, many of our current liturgical ministers are taking a break from liturgical ministry to reduce their risk of exposure to the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19).

We are in great need of individuals who we can train in the roles of Greeters and Ushers. Training will be provided. Specific guidelines have been arranged for each ministry to protect volunteers from exposure to COVID-19. Virtus training is required and can be done online. Contact the Parish Office for more information on this training.

If you can help in these roles, please contact Erica Stiller, parish.administrator@rescathroch.org for more information. We thank you for your willingness to serve!

The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

It is no wonder that followers of Christ are called the Body of Christ. After all, sharing in the same spiritual food and sacred meal, they become what they eat and reveal the Divine Image. There is so much power for healing in the community of believers. Through the Eucharist, Christ becomes as present in those who have partaken of his Body and Blood as he has the elements themselves. The very presence of God touches the depths of the human soul and visits a part of us that no human being can ever hope to explore. We are God's. The sacred Eucharistic meal is a celebration of intimacy, the reunion of two loves in constant search of and longing for the other.

The community of believers receives the power and the presence to touch and heal in the name of the One they have welcomed within. It is now within their grasp to change the way life is lived and to more intentionally put into practice the Beatitudes that the Divine Guest has revealed. We are asked to be like Christ and work to create a world of sufficiency, where the greed of some no longer creates the want of others but where all of God's children can find a home and a place at the table of life. The One who makes a home within calls us to live a life that transforms. We are changed ourselves and now become agents of change for others. We are the Body of Christ. God is with us. We have been nourished.
