Weekly Words from The Rock

Two Stories

Story #1: One evening an old Cherokee told his grandson about a battle that goes on inside people. He said, "My son, the battle is between two "wolves" inside us all. One is evil. It is anger, envy, jealousy, sorrow, regret, greed, arrogance, self-pity, guilt, resentment, inferiority, lies, false pride, superiority and ego. The other is good. It is joy, peace, love, hope, serenity, humility, kindness, benevolence, empathy, generosity, truth, compassion and faith."

The grandson thought about it for a minute and then asked his grandfather: "Which wolf wins?" The old Cherokee simply replied, "The one you feed."

Story #2. This story appeared in a "Dear Abby" column.

Dear Abby: In a recent column, a reader complained about the amount of money he was expected to give to the church. Perhaps this piece will provide an answer to that question. I regret I don't know who the author is, but I hope you feel it is worth sharing.

Abby says: I do. And many thanks for sending it.

Is the Church costing too much? Last Sunday, another golfer sank the last putt on the 18th green and received a check for $50,000 for four rounds of golf, plus an automobile for himself and one for his wife. This week, the papers reported that a certain popular singer will receive $100,000 per week for her current singing engagement. Americans spend annually more on dog food than on church contributions. Is it not unusual for an individual to pay more for his country club membership than he gives to the church?

Let me share an experience with you. On June 2, 1940, a little girl was born to us. She cost us money from the moment she was born. As she grew from babyhood to girlhood, she cost even more – her dresses and shoes were more expensive, and we had to have the doctor through all those childhood diseases. She was even more expensive during her school and teen years. She needed long dresses to go to parties. When she went to college we discovered, along with other parents, that all college expenses are not listed in the catalog. Then after graduation, she fell in love and married. She was married in a church wedding and that, too, cost a lot of money.

Then, five months after her marriage, she suddenly sickened and within a week she was dead. She hasn't cost us a penny since the day we walked away from her grave.

As long as the church is alive, it will cost money. And the more alive a church is, the more money it will cost. Only a dead church, like a dead child, is no longer expensive.

Think it over. Is the church costing too much?

WELCOME BACK TO MASS

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ, In the Gospel of St. John, Jesus tells His followers, "I am the bread of life... whoever eats this bread will live forever" (6:48, 51). For over 2000 years, Catholics have gathered together on the Lord's Day for the celebration of the Mass, during which ordinary bread and wine is consecrated and becomes Jesus' Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity. Through sharing in the Eucharist, those in communion with Christ and His Church are intimately united with our Triune God. This heavenly food strengthens us to live out our faith in service to others.

Beginning the weekend of July 3-4, I, along with the other Bishops of Minnesota, will reinstate the obligation for Catholics to come to Mass on Sunday, or Saturday evening. Gathering together and sharing in the Eucharist is the primary way in which Catholics follow the Lord's command to keep holy the Sabbath. While there are occasions such as this past year where this obligation is dispensed, the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass remains the center of our lives as Catholics.

As always, there are circumstances where individuals may not be obligated to go to Sunday Mass. If you are sick, a caregiver for children or the elderly, or are unable to attend Mass through no fault of your own (e.g., you are in a place where there is no Mass, or you do not have any means of transportation), then you are not obligated to come to Mass. Additional circumstances that may exempt you from attending Sunday Mass are outlined in the decree reimposing the Sunday obligation, and the statement from all the Bishops of the Minnesota Catholic Conference. If you have questions about your specific situation, you are encouraged to discuss them with your pastor.

It is with great joy that I look forward to gathering again with all the faithful of the Diocese of Winona-Rochester around the altar of the Lord. The Eucharist is the source and summit of our lives as Catholics, and it is where we encounter Christ Himself. May each one of us make the words of Psalm 122:1 our own: "I rejoiced when they said to me, 'Let us go to the house of the Lord!'"

Sincerely in Christ, Most Rev. John M. Quinn, Bishop of Winona-Rochester

Every Father's Day, I pray thanks to God, our heavenly father, for his constant love and for all the blessings on this earth that have shaped into the person I am today. One of those blessings I thank him for is my terrific father on earth. He is the person I look up to with qualities I strive to emulate. He is the parent I wish I might one day be to my own children, and he is the dad that loves and supports me, no matter how many mistakes I make or when times get rough.

From what Jack, Claire, Mike, Margaret, and Lily have told me, it's clear they would say the same thing about their own father, Paul Drucker.

Paul, the senior director of Mayo Medical Transportation at Mayo Clinic, and his wife, Tricia, have been members at Resurrection Parish for twenty-two years. He is incredibly active at the parish from adoration to serving on both the Parish and Financial Council. "Faith has been the backbone to his life," Claire said. "He takes his faith very seriously and consistently makes it a priority in his life."

Paul's character inspires his children in a multitude of ways. Mike calls his dad selfless and considerate. Together, they enjoy playing golf, watching sports, and spending time at the cabin fishing. Jack describes Paul as a "family man" and instills important values to all his children. They are always able to have open conversations, and Paul always encourages his children to be themselves. Jack even reflected that his father's experiences in his youth and in losing his own father at a young age "influenced my role as a father today. Jesus sacrificed for us and he sacrifices for his kids."

For Claire, she sees her dad as generous, kind, and faithful. It was Paul that influenced her to become a nurse, especially when he brought her to work. Lily and Margaret agree with their other siblings, adding that "Kids come first before himself." Their favorite memories are taking road trips together and their sport events with him always in attendance cheering them on. Most of all, they think of him as dependable; to all of them, he is a "good father."

Paul truly is a unique and special father, man, and child of God. To his children and to everyone he encounters, he inspires them to love and to care for others. He teaches the values of Christ and offers them to the world. Tricia, Jack, Claire, Mike, Margaret, Lily had one more thing to say to their father: "We love you and we are all proud of you."

To you, Paul, and to all fathers out there, I wish you all blessings this month of Father's Day.

God Bless,
Michelle Perrier
