Weekly Words from The Rock

Your Questions Answered...Angels. Our Sunday Visitor provided an "In Focus" on angels in its September 29-October 5, 2019 edition (pages 9-12). There is a certain fascination about angels so let us see what we can learn.

What are the different types of angels? Church Fathers agreed that there are different classifications of angels with distinct activities and missions. Prominent saints throughout history – including St. Ambrose, St. Jerome, St. Gregory the Great and St. Hildegard – have proposed schemes of angelic organization. Perhaps most famously, St. Thomas Aquinas (1225-74), in his Summa Theologica developed a Scripture-based structure of three spheres of angels, each containing three orders or choirs.

The first two choirs of angels are often mentioned in liturgical hymns, such as "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name." Seraphim are in the highest choir of the angelic hierarchy. In the Book of Isaiah, they are described as constantly praising God, and they are the caretakers of God's throne. Traditionally thought to have a fiery nature, the seraphim are described by St. Thomas Aquinas in his "Summa Theologica" as having "in themselves an inextinguishable light, and that they also perfectly enlighten others." Seraphim are said to have six wings: two each to cover their faces, to cover their feet and for flying.

Next are the cherubim. Often depicted in art as small, plump, winged boys, cherubim are described in the book of Ezekiel as guarding the throne of God and having four faces: one of a man, an ox, a lion and an eagle – symbols later ascribed to the Four Evangelists. Genesis also says the cherubim guard the way to the Tree of Life in the Garden of Eden.

The third choir are the thrones, who serve as elders and symbols of justice. The angels in these first three choirs all see and adore God in his presence, but the angels of the lower hierarchy need the thrones in order to access God.

The second tier of angels help with God's plan for the universe. Among them are the dominions, who rule and guide the lower choir of angels.

Next are the virtues, who implement the orders from the dominions. Virtues are also believed to govern all of nature. Lastly in this group are the powers, who warrior angels that defend against evil spirits.

The third grouping of heavenly beings are closely involved with human affairs. Principalities, the highest in this tier, care for earthly dwellings, such as cities and countries.

Next are the archangels, who are God's messengers and include the angels named throughout Scripture. They are considered leading angels, as St. Michael led the battle against Satan.

Finally, the last group are simply angels who lead and guide people. These include guardian angels, the protectors of individual people, who are also mentioned in Scripture. In the psalms we read: "For he commands his angels with regard to you, to guard you wherever you go. With their hands they shall support you, lest you strike your foot against a stone" (Psalm 91:11-12). Jesus himself reminds us of the reality of guardian angels when he commands us not to despise children since "their angels in heaven always look upon the face of my heavenly Father" (Matthew 18:10). The memorial of the Guardian Angels is celebrated on October 2.

Next week, we will look at who are the seven archangels.

I have been reading a book The Wisdom of Fulton Sheen. I would like to share some of his wisdom.

March 12 – "Once a man ceases to be of service to his neighbor, he begins to be a burden to him."

March 15 – "There are two ways of knowing how good God is: one is never to lose Him, and the other is to lose Him and then to find Him."

March 24 – "In vain will the world seek for equality until it has seen all men through the eyes of faith. Faith teaches that all men, however poor, or ignorant, or crippled, however maimed, ugly, or degraded they may be, all bear within themselves the image of God, and have been bought by the precious blood of Jesus Christ. As this truth is forgotten, men are valued only because of what they can do, not because of what they are."

Till next week! Father Peter Schuster

If someone chooses to do something you think unwise, do you:

- A. Tell them what they should really do
- B. Worry
- C. Tell them you've got their back

It's a tricky question, and there is certainly more than one answer to choose depending on the situation.

The next time we are in this situation, however, I encourage you to approach it in a different light. Instead of focusing on what you think is right for them, think instead about what God is calling that person to be. Remember, we don't always know what God's plan is for us, let alone his plan for others.

For instance, growing up, my brother was hounded by all the seminarians to join the priesthood. They told him that God was obviously calling him to serve, even if he couldn't see it. My brother stood firm, though, and went into teaching. Today, it's clear to see that teaching is the right choice for him. And those seminarians? Out of the ten, one became a priest, eight dropped out of seminary, and one left the priesthood five years later.

Following God's plan can be difficult. It might mean facing instability, single life, no retirement, or moving from state to state. But having an uncertain future is what we all face. Being a teacher or a doctor doesn't instantly land you a job for life. And temporary jobs may seem scary, but from experience I can tell you that your faith and joy comes alive when you choose to follow Christ above all else. So don't look at a person's choices from your perspective. See them as a child of God first desiring to share their light through the blessings they were given.

God Bless,
Michelle Perrier

Christmas Cards for Minnesota Veterans

There are some Military Veterans at the Minnesota Veterans Hospital who will not make it home for Christmas this year.

If you have Christian Christmas Cards that you are willing to donate, please drop them off in the marked box just outside the parish office. They must be Christian in content.

Do NOT write on the inside of the card. If there is a Mass intention attached with the card, please do not donate these unless you have a Mass offered for our Military Veterans.

These cards will be addressed and sent to the Veterans Hospital at the Minneapolis facility in mid-December.

Thank you for your support. Any questions, please call the church office 507 288 5528.

Faith Formation

News from Stacey, Grades 1-5, Family Ministry, dre1to5fm@rescathroch.org.

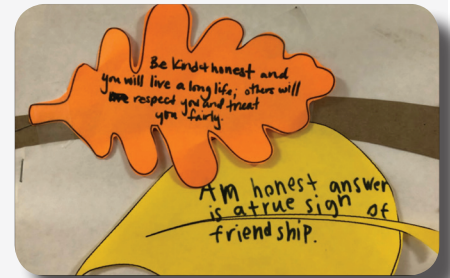

Grades 1-5: We have Faith Formation class for children in grades 2-5 at 6:00-7:00pm on Monday, October 18th. The 1st graders and parents will be participating in God's Family learning centers. Centers will be open 4:00-7:00pm in South Zenk Hall where the first graders normally have class.

Saints of the Week: Monday is also the feast day for St. Luke and it's a wonderful opportunity for families to open their new bibles to the Gospel of Luke and read a chapter together. Another modern-day saint is honored on Friday, October 22nd, it's Saint John Paul II, Pope! There are many ways to see, hear, and learn about this saint but I think the easiest one is to search under St. John Paul II and see pictures, videos, and Vatican papers on him.

Consecration to St. Joseph: We are over halfway through the month of readings about St. Joseph and preparing for consecration on October 31st. How are you doing with your daily reading and challenge? Are you praying the Litany of St. Joseph every day? For younger children, open to the Gospel of Luke and read about him in the nativity passage.

A Child's Prayer:

Heavenly Father, I praise you for all of creation, For the beauty of nature that I see all around me. I praise you for the family who takes care of me and for the friends I can share with. I praise you for the guardian angel you sent to watch over me. For these and for all your wonderful gifts, I praise you, God. Forever and ever! Amen

Resurrections mission project "Operation Warm Up Our Community" is well underway thanks to our amazing and generous parishioners! THANK YOU!

Generous parishioners helped our Faith Formation students raise money to purchase the "No Tie Blanket Kits" for Operation Warm Up Our Community. Now parishioners are assisting with the project with prep work by cutting the blankets! Your help is truly appreciated. It has been a blessing to chat with each of you after Mass and help you pick out the kit to take home and cut.

Students in grades 5-8 and Confirmation Preparation will be taking time to complete the mission project by tying the blankets. We have enough kits for each student to tie their own Operation Warm Up Our Community blanket.

Trust that we will be praying for the people who receive these blankets as we do the work! Some of the students have chosen to help more by taking on the cutting prep work! Pictured is Year One Confirmation student Zach Guyer busy cutting!

Thank you and God Bless!

St. Joseph pray for us! Amen.
