Summer Reflection

Ah, the summer months. When the last school bell of the year rang, there was so much excitement. The possibilities of summer were endless. I will share some of the things I remember from my summer vacations.

1. School "work" continued. My mother had flashcards she used to continue our education. On one side of the flashcard would be a math problem and the answer on the opposite side. Reading was also on the docket.
2. Kool-Aid. We didn't drink much soda.
3. Riding bicycle. I spent a great deal of time on the bicycle.
4. Trapping pocket gophers. There were always pocket gopher mounds around and for each pocket gopher tail we received either 50 cents or one dollar.
5. It didn't happen every year, but when we could take a trip, it would be to Leech Lake.
6. Bullhead fishing on Freeborn Lake.
7. Picnics.
8. Baseball. I played baseball during the summer months.
9. I don't remember sleeping in. I would still get up rather early.
10. Walking beans or riding the bean bar.
11. When I was younger, playing in the sandbox. If I was wiser, I would have never taken the toys out of the box. Some antique toys are worth a pretty penny these days.
12. Taking the occasional nap. While I didn't sleep in, I recall taking the occasional nap.
13. Working with my father.
14. Eating fresh produce from the garden – strawberries, string beans, tomatoes.
15. Playing with my brother. While six years younger, that didn't matter to my brother. We spent a lot of time together.

16. Building a fort in the grove.
17. Visiting the grandparents.
18. Going to a parade or two.
19. Bailing straw. We usually planted a few acres of wheat and bailed the straw as bedding for the hogs.
20. Pulling weeds and throwing them into the hogs. It was a spectacle to watch them eat as they loved the fresh greens.
21. Hanging clothes on the clothes line. There were always clothes to be washed and hung. I would help my mom hang the clothes. When we would bring them in, there was something to how they smelled. People called it the fresh air but I didn't know fresh air had a smell to it.

I am sure there are more things to remember but you get the point. How would your list look?

Oh, and one last thing. We said our prayers each night and we always, always went to Mass. We never missed. God was and still is important to our family.

The Wisdom of Fulton Sheen

I have been reading a book entitled The Wisdom of Fulton Sheen. The book shares a thread of Bishop Sheen's wisdom for each day of the year. In the weeks ahead, I would like to share some of his wisdom.

July 7 – "The Lord hears us more readily than we suspect; it is our listening to God that needs to be improved."

Till next week! Father Peter Schuster

Parish News

Most Reverend John M. Quinn, Eighth Bishop of Winona. On May 7, 2009, Bishop Quinn became the eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Winona-Rochester, Minnesota when he succeeded the Most Rev. Bernard J. Harrington. "Loving Father, bless Bishop Quinn now in a particular way as he completes his service to the Diocese of Winona-Rochester."

The Diocese of Winona-Rochester comprises twenty counties in the southern part of the State of Minnesota.

Bishop Robert Barron On Thursday, June 2, 2022, at noon Rome time, Pope Francis appointed Bishop Robert Barron the ninth bishop of the Diocese of Winona-Rochester (Minnesota). He will be installed on Friday, July 29, 2022.

Bishop Barron, born on November 19, 1959 in Chicago, spent his childhood in Detroit and then in a suburb of Chicago. Bishop Barron studied at Mundelein Seminary in Chicago and at the Catholic university of America in Washington, DC before being ordained a priest on May 24, 1986. After serving as an associate pastor for three years, Bishop Barron was sent to study at the Institut Catholique de Paris where he completed his Doctorate of Sacred Theology. Bishop Barron served as professor of theology at Mundelein Seminary from 1992 to 2015 and also served as its president-rector from 2012 to 2015. (dowr.org. Diocese of Winona-Rochester).

Below is his comment published at wordonfire.org

"Friends, I am overjoyed and humbled to learn that Pope Francis has appointed me the ninth bishop of the Diocese of Winona-Rochester.

The bishop of a diocese is, first and foremost, a spiritual father to the priests and people who have been entrusted to his care. My prayer this morning is that the Lord will give me the grace always to be a good father. The bishop is also, as Pope Francis often teaches, a shepherd with the smell of the sheep—out in front of the flock in one sense, leading the way, but also with the flock, giving encouragement, and in back of the flock in order to gather in those who have fallen behind. I pray also for the grace to be just that kind of shepherd to the Catholics of southern Minnesota.

It has been an extraordinary privilege these past seven years to serve as auxiliary bishop in the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, where the priests and people received me, from the beginning, with warmth and enthusiasm, and where I had the good fortune to observe close up the ministry of Archbishop Jose Gomez, one of the great churchmen on the scene today. Watching him govern the largest Archdiocese in the country was a master-class in ecclesial leadership. It is with real sadness in my heart that I take leave of the good people of the Santa Barbara pastoral region. Together, we made our way through fire, flood, mudslides, and COVID, and I will never forget your kindness to me and never cease to draw strength from your faith.

Many might be wondering what this means for the important work of Word on Fire. The short answer is that it will certainly continue! Through our gifted staff, we will keep bringing you regular videos, interviews, articles, sermons, and daily reflections. We will press forward with the Word on Fire Institute, the Word on Fire Bible series, the Liturgy of the Hours initiative, our many books and YouTube shows, and more exciting things coming down the pipeline.

I am grateful to all of you who follow and support Word on Fire, using our content to form yourselves and share the Catholic Faith. I thank God each and every day for you. It is a blessing for me to work with you to introduce people to Jesus Christ and invite them to share all the gifts he wants his people to enjoy.

Please pray for me as I begin this new adventure under the Lord's providence, and pray for the all the good people of the Winona-Rochester diocese."

Peace, Bishop Barron (wordonfire.org)

I just love the Disney version of The Hunchback of Notre Dame. I could go on and on with reasons why, but let me mention the one thing that I don't like instead. At one moment, the heroine prays, "I ask for nothing, I can get by, but there are so many less lucky than I." Now, you might want to tell me, "Michelle, this sounds lovely. After all, she's praying for those in need!" But how can she "get by" without Christ? How can any of us "get by" without the salvation we find in Jesus Christ? If we ask for nothing, we are denying the things we need from God to be saved!

Now, I know all of you are fantastic about praying for the needs of others and for the needs of our world. So ask yourself this, instead: how often do you remember to ask God for the guidance, strength, wisdom, and other things you need to live as a steward of his love?

This month, I want to propose a challenge for all of us, and all it takes is five minutes a week. In those five minutes, remove yourself from all technology, all objects lying around, even your bible and rosary, and have a one-on-one conversation with God. Tell him how you're doing, what you're feeling, what you've been struggling with, what questions you have for him, what you're thankful for, and ask for his love, grace, and help as you go about your day. God may be omniscient, but we aren't. The more we open up to Christ in prayerful conversations, the better we'll understand our own thoughts and the more open we'll be to hearing God's answers. Song of the Week: "The Heart of Worship" by Matt Redman

Come join us Tuesday, June 21 at 6:30pm for our prayer service about peace amidst conflict!

Teaching Kids to Care by Practicing Virtues: With the assistance of a catechist book by Sr. Janet Schaeffler, OP, let's look at the virtues of justice and peacefulness. Justice means upholding what is fair and right, respecting the rights of others and establishing harmony in relationships. Peacefulness means calmness and tranquility, and to be undisturbed by turmoil or disagreement. Read the Ten commandments together and learn about how social justice promotes the view that everyone deserves to enjoy the same economic, political, and social rights, regardless of race, socioeconomic status, religion, or gender. Discuss how having fairness could lead to more peacefulness in our world. Read the Beatitudes and decide what it means to be peacemakers and children of God. Prayers for justice and peacefulness: Spirit of God, we come to you for guidance. Enlarge our hearts. Deepen our understanding. Give us your passionate love for all your people. Lead us from despair to hope, from fear to trust. Lead us from hate to love, from war to peace. Let peace fill our hearts, our world, our universe. Amen.
