Two Creation Stories in the Bible

Question: In the Bible, why are there two stories about creation?

Answer: This is a highly debated question among both scholars and believers. Some do not agree that there are two accounts, but that Genesis 2:4 and following is a commentary focusing especially on the creation of man and then woman, and the establishment of marriage. But this is only partially true. While Genesis 2 does not speak of the creation of the heavenly realms, it does treat the earthly realms and their account, though even of that, it is quite different. Some of the following differences in the two accounts can be noted overall:

1. There are different names for God: The first account uses the generic term Elohim (Hebrew for "God"), but the second account uses YHWH Elohim (I AM God). The first account (Genesis 1) pictures God as more transcendent, speaking creation into being by his word. The second account (Genesis 2) portrays God as more imminent (closely present), forming the human from the dust of the ground (like a potter working with clay) and conversing with humans.
2. There are differences in style and scope. As noted, Genesis 1 describes the creation by speaking of six days and God's rest on the seventh day. It does this in a rather formal and organized way of six days where God creates broader categories such as the heavens, the earth and particular things in the heavens and on the earth. This is followed by the seventh day when God rests. By contrast, Genesis 2 focuses on humanity and the earth and does so in a more narrative or story-like way.
3. There is a different order of events: Genesis 1 starts with the earth flooded by water. There is water first and then land. Genesis 2 begins with the earth as a dry wilderness (cf. Genesis 2:5) until a stream or mist emerges to provide water (Genesis 2:6). Further Genesis 1 has water first, then land, followed by plants, animals and, finally, humans, male and female together.

By contrast, Genesis 2 begins with the existence of land, then water, followed by Adam, then plants, animals and, finally, a woman, Eve.

As such, it is hard to simply consider Genesis 2 as a commentary and elaboration of Genesis 1; the differences are very significant, and they seem to be wholly separate accounts.

Hence, it seems reasonable, simply looking at the texts, to concede they likely have different origins. This only leads to a textual conflict if we insist that one of them is an exact journalistic account of the creation event. Since neither account purports to be an exact journalistic account, there is no necessary conflict, and we do not need to choose one or the other. Perhaps we can think of their current relationship as a kind of call and response. In Genesis 1, God calls the cosmos into existence, then Genesis 2 details how mankind responded to God's call to be his image in the world. Sadly, we rebelled against God's Law.

The essential and same truths, however, are proclaimed in both accounts, and they are:

1. God created everything gratuitously and out of nothing.
2. He did this in an orderly way and in stages.
3. It was an act of his pure love and his perfect wisdom. As such, creation manifests order and logic.
4. He created everything according to its kind and was involved in every stage of that creation.
5. Adam and Eve were created directly and personally by God, not simply emerging from a blind evolutionary process.
6. Implicitly, both accounts also affirm what later Scriptures attest: that God continues to sustain his creation through an immanent presence and grace (cf. Colossians 1:17).

The Catechism of the Catholic Church highlights the truths expressed through this story about creation: "its origin and its end in God, in order and goodness, the vocation of man, and finally the drama of sin and the hope of salvation" (No. 289).

Why are there two stories of creation? It is not clear, but God wills it. Enjoy them both.

One of the things I notice our young ones (and even our older ones) struggle with is learning how to pray. After all, some people have never been taught, and there are so many forms of prayer it can be overwhelming. So over the next few weeks, I'd like to share some ways to pray you might not have thought of before. I encourage you to try them out and share these ideas with others.

THE NEWSPAPER PRAYER

Look through a print or online newspaper to find a news article about an issue that affects your community or the world. Cut out (or print out) the article and bring it with you to a quiet place where you can pray. Think about how human dignity is affected by the issue or situation. Pray for God's healing and transformation for all people impacted, lawmakers, and others. Ask God how he is asking you to respond to this issue.

BECOMING A CHARACTER IN THE PARABLES

Becoming a Character in the Parables: Read slowly one of the following Gospel readings: John 5:1-15; Luke 8:40-56; Mark 1:40-45; or Mt. 20:29-34. Then read it again, imagining that you are the character in the story with whom Jesus interacts. Imagine how it would be to be in that character's place. How do you feel before you meet Jesus? How do you feel physically (what do all five senses experience in that time and place?), emotionally, and spiritually? What happens when you encounter Jesus? What is that experience like? Imagine every detail of the story.

Next, imagine the story again in your mind, but this time, substitute a modern-day person, for example, someone who is homeless or a person who is sick with cancer or AIDS but has no health insurance. Let this exercise lead you into prayer for real people who are suffering in the world. Pray for justice and for realization of your role in making justice a reality.

Community News

Catholic in Recovery is a nonprofit organization that seeks to serve those suffering from addictions and unhealthy attachments (including alcoholism, drug addiction, pornography addiction, sex and relationship addiction, compulsive overeating and food addictions, gambling addiction, codependency and the impact on family, and general fear, control, and anxiety).

The organization was started by the passion of Scott Weeman as he found healing and new life through the help of twelve-step recovery and the sacramental love and mercy provided by the Catholic Church.

We support parishes and communities with group resources that draw people closer to these two powerful sources of grace. It is the aim of Catholic in Recovery to share the Good News that God can bring about healing and recovery, even in the most hopeless of cases.

Catholic in Recovery meetings are held Holy Spirit Catholic Church, 5455 50th Ave NW, Rochester. Contact Peter Flies at peter.flies@protonmail.com for more information.

Faith Formation

News from Stacey, Grades 1-5, Family Ministry, dre1to5fm@rescathroch.org

Totus Tuus 2022: The Totus Tuus Team has arrived at Resurrection! Today is the last chance to join us for the week of Monday, June 27-Friday, July 1st. Cost is $25/child and $50/family maximum. Online registration is available on our website. Go to Faith Formation, Grades 1-5, Totus Tuus.

We are in need of many volunteers during the week of Totus Tuus for: adult and youth to help assist in the classrooms; adults to help with clean up after morning snack, lunch, and afternoon drinks; set-up or clean-up for the Wednesday potluck supper. Contact me if you can help for one day or all five days. We ask our parishioners to pray for the children during this wonderful, fun week.

Teaching Kids to Care by Practicing Virtues: With the assistance of a catechist book by Sr. Janet Schaeffler, OP, let's look at the virtue of kindness, which is the quality of being gentle and considerate. From the letters of St. Paul, we learn what kindness means. "By the meekness and kindness of Christ, I appeal to you..." 2 Cor. 10:1. He reminds us of our own call to "clothe yourselves with kindness" Col. 3:12. In Galatians 5:22-23, he identifies kindness as one of the fruits of the Spirit. Jesus teaches us the Corporal Works of Mercy when He told us "whatever you do to others, you do for me." In reality, we don't want to work at doing just kind acts, but to have kindness be our very nature.

Prayer for kindness: God of kindness, you have created each and every one of us, while totally loving and caring for each of us. Help us to be like you. Help us to respond to everyone with the kindness that we have learned from you. Amen.

SUNDAY SCHOOL & NURSERY NEWS

We are looking for volunteers for the much desired return of Sunday School and Nursery! Resurrection has an amazing group of families actively seeking a faith filled learning environment for their children. Our goal is to relaunch Sunday School and Nursery during the 10:30am Mass beginning October 2nd, 2022 and running through May 7th, 2023. We meet most Sundays, however we take time off when there is a holiday week or no school on a Monday.

Age requirement for Nursery is birth through age 3 while Sunday School is for age 4 through KG. Youth middle school and up are welcomed volunteers but we must always have at least 2 adult volunteer in both Nursery and Sunday School to make this happen. Kris Dobbelaere is heading up the search for Virtus trained adult volunteers. We are also planning to have an interest list for volunteers in the Gathering Space. In the meantime, if you have any questions you can contact Kris at krisd28@hotmail.com. Any youth volunteers (or adults) can also contact Sheila Pelowski at sheilap@rescathroch.org.
